FLASHLIGHT-TELEPHONE SYSTEM FOR BAY CITY BECOMES ACTUALITY

Change From Former System Made Wednesday Morning, March 25—Bell Telephone Company Inaugurates System With Fine Equipment.

Bell Telephone Company, operating in Bay St. Louis and Waveland, changed its system from the former ring signal to the flashlight method, the transfer taking place Wednesday morning, March 25, at 5:50 o'clock and without a hitch or subsequent trouble. It has since proven a convenience and it did not take long to accustom one to such improved method over the old.

For several months a force of expert workmen have been working installing the new equipment which represents an investment to the company of over $50,000, for, as stated, equipment for Bay St. Louis is not only new but of the latest of this type.

Before turning on the new system and even after Mr. R. N. Gooch, of Jackson, Miss., has been in charge of connecting the new switchboard to the subscribers' lines, to see that all was satisfactory to work in connection with the new system, Mr. Gooch was assisted by Mr. Charles Wilder, also of Jackson, and Mr. E. W. McDaniel of Meridian, Miss. For this work expert service was required, hence the service men of experience and ability.

Immediately after putting the new switchboard into use, work of dismantling the old one began. This was in charge of Mr. W. G. Cavel, who made several additions and changes to the former equipment.

Responsibility of installing the new switchboard and other equipment has been with the following-named staff for this section of the State, T. A. Richardson, district plant chief, Hattiesburg; P. H. Boger, district traffic manager, Hattiesburg; W. J. Matherhead, plant chief, Gulfport; H. E. Burke, switchboard repair man, Gulfport; A. M. Fishburn, general local manager, with headquarters at Gulfport; Miss Jean McKay, of Jackson, in charge of training the operators for the change.

Work on Outside of Exchange.

In addition to the vast amount of work that has been carried on within the interior of the exchange and building, considerable work as well has been carried on the outside. It was necessary to practically rewire the city. This operation, which has covered a period of several months, was in charge of the following-named crew:

J. H. Lyons, supervising construction foreman; P. H. Barr, C. C. McCoy, line foremen; P. Scarborough, clerk; J. G. Adcock, E. D. Hart, J. M. Passon, linemen; W. H. Towles, W. H. Goff, truck drivers; J. A. Vaughn, R. R. Black, E. J. Falgo, W. L. Gilbert, Ed Hammack, M. W. Stapleton, E. Watson, linemen; C. A. Branigan, splicer; L. E. Davis, T. N. Brea, C. A. Crenney, cable-slicers.

Miss Alecia Ladner is resident manager. Switchboard operators include, Mrs. Florence Ansley; Misses Annie Adams, Clare Creel, Lillian Ladner, Vivian Saucier, Ruth Schreck, Gwendolyn Ziegler, Emelda Fayard.

Remodeling of interior of building occupied by the Bell Telephone Company in Bay St. Louis is in charge of Edw. Osbourn, local contractor and builder. Heating system by Hayden of Pass Christian and plumbing by Bay Plumbing Company.

A date for formal reception, when the public will be invited to inspect the new office and equipment, will be announced shortly, A. M. Fishburn, manager, said.

This improvement and expenditure of so much money is a decided improvement to the progress of Bay St. Louis and vicinity and the Bell Company is to be congratulated on its success and the people of this section as well for this forward step.

J. A. Leonard, of Jackson, Mississippi supervisor of buildings and equipment, has been active in this work and traveled frequently to and from headquarters to this city. Mr. Leonard, like Mr. Fishburn and others, were present when the transfer was made Tuesday evening from the old to the new.

MISSISSIPPI IS READY FOR SHORT-CUT, SAYS W. J. GEX

In Answer To Information Asked Following Verbal Tilt of Govs. Long and Bilbo.

While Governor Huey P. Long, of Louisiana and Governor Theodore G. Bilbo, of Mississippi were hurling criticisms and harsh words at each other over state line on the failure of the two states to connect up hastily with through highways, W. J. Gex of this city, came to the rescue of the situation of Mississippi regarding the delay in building the Louisiana-Mississippi short-cut with the challenge that Mississippi was ready to build her coast line short cut as soon as Louisiana started up work.

"We are now waiting on Mississippi to build an airline paved road from New Orleans to the Mississippi Gulf Coast," said Governor Long in his statement advising Mississippi "to get out and get itself a governor, a governor whom the state will back all the way down the line," and recommending the man for the job.

"We now touch that line with concrete in six places," said Long, "and we are met at every point with gravel or dirt."

Gex's Statement.

Mr. Gex in his statement declared that the Mississippi committee had passed their resolutions and found enough money to start work on the Mississippi stretch of the Coast line short route and had notified the joint Louisiana committee that they are ready to start.

"We have transmitted all of this information to R. S. Hecht, a member of the Louisiana committee for presentation to Governor Long," said Gex. "We were informed more than three weeks ago by Mr. Hecht that Governor Long wanted us to have the chairman of the Mississippi Highway Commission meet with him. We arranged to have our highway commission chairman meet Governor Long. Then Governor Long got sick and we have heard no more from him.

"Mississippi is ready to go the short route. The money is available. Louisiana will have to build 11 miles or road from the free bridge at the Rigolets to connect with the Mississippi road. We are ready to start work the day Louisiana begins."

We desire to commend especially those responsible for the neat manner in which the courthouse is kept and the neat and attractive appearance of the courthouse grounds. Such was the text of an address on "Service" delivered by Prof. B. Frank Brown, superintendent of Gulfport schools, before the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club in regular weekly luncheon Wednesday noon, and said to be one of the outstanding addresses on principles implied by Rotary before the club over its period of existence. The lines from the poet are well known and the beautiful and significant interpretations by the speaker as applied to service render this excellent program of the week.

And now, having finished our labors, we respectfully ask to be finally discharged.

Respectfully submitted this the 20th day of March, 1931.

LEGION HEAD TO SWEEP ST.

Loses Wager and Must Sweep Public Thoroughfare—County Post To Meet at Waveland.

A communication received a few days ago by Laurent Dickson, commanding post from Department Commander, Cooper announces that Oran J. Vaughn, State Commander of the American Legion in Arkansas, will sweep the streets of Biloxi during the State convention in June because that would be swept by the Arkansas post with Mississippi.

Mississippi ex-service men came to the rescue of State Commander Forrest Cooper of the Mississippi department, who would have had to sweep the streets of the Arkansas convention city had the Magnolia state lost.

Howard avenue, Biloxi's main business thoroughfare, was designated Commander Vester Wentzell of the Biloxi Legion post as the street that would be swept by the Arkansas commander.

Arrangements will be made to have the event filmed and a motion picture of the street sweeping order will be made, said the Biloxi post commander after he had received notice from Forrest Cooper, the Mississippi Legion head that he was to designate the street that the Arkansas commander was to sweep.

In addition to filming the street sweeping episode which will be one of the big entertainment features of the state Legion convention in Biloxi, a brass band would be procured to follow the street-sweeping commander as he goes about his task of cleaning Howard avenue from Reynoir street on the West to the Biloxi City Hall on the east.

Will Meet In Waveland.

Since the Clement R. Bontemps Post is strictly a county organization, its next regular meeting will be held at Waveland, Old School House, on Monday, April 5 at customary evening hour. This meeting promises to be one of interest and Commander Dickson is looking forward to a large attendance.

BEAUTIFUL COAST WEDDING OF GENERAL INTEREST AT PASS

Young Daughter of Former Mayor Wedded To Assistant Cashier Hancock County Bank

A wedding of more than ordinary interest along the west section of the Mississippi Gulf Coast was that of William V. Robinson, assistant cashier of the Pass Christian branch of the Hancock County Bank, and Miss Katherine Saucier, daughter of former Mayor A. P. Saucier, which took place on Friday evening of last week within the palm and flower-embowered precincts of Trinity Episcopal church, at Pass Christian, Rev. George Jones officiating.

The church, typical in its aspect and every atmosphere, had been decorated with potted palms, white lilies and gladiolas in tasty profusion, by loving hands and the church, with its lights falling athwart presented that scene of beauty commensurate with the solemnity and sublimity of the sacred occasion.

The bride, attired in her wedding robes of white satin and long trailing veil of tulle illusion, was given away at the altar by her father, former Mayor Saucier, Miss Naomi Saucier, and Mrs. Loraine L. Adams, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and Loraine Adams, maid of honor. Fredrick Sutter was best man and Lamar Saucier and Simon L. Engman, of Bay St. Louis, were the ushers.

Preceding the march to the altar, Francis Hursey, thrilled his hearers with his tenor voice "O Promise Me," adding to the event with this voice of so much feeling and tenderness.

The bride is one of the members of the younger set at Pass Christian and is well known in social circles along the west coast section, while the groom is a rising young man of the community. Footlight Frolics from Gulf Park College, annual presentation by Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, benefit Rotary Night School, is dated for the evening of Friday, April 17, at Bay High School.

A chart for reserved seats has been placed at the Beach Drug Store, with Miss Clara Kergosin in charge of the sale of seats and tickets. It might be well to apply early for reservations.

Tickets, including admission, for reserved seats are only 60 cents. General admission, 35 cents. Children, 20 cents.

The annual presentation of entertainment by Gulf Park College needs no comment. The entertainment is of high order, entertaining and proves popular. This is best attested to by the fact that a crowded house gets the Frolics each year.

Every year the Bay Rotary Club gives the proceeds of the entertainment to different organizations. This year, however, funds realized will be appropriated to the Rotary Night School.

VARIOUS RUMORS WOULD IMPLICATE LOCAL MEN IN WHISKEY SHIPMENT

Box Car of Booze At Ansley Recently Captured Basis For Investigation By Federal Official W. K. Bruner, Special Agent.

Following the capture of a freight car on a siding of the L. & N. tracks at Ansley, some three weeks ago, at which time a car load, to have been supposedly carrying crossties as a whole, revealed many bottles of liquor supposedly from Honduras, many rumors have been afloat, as to probabilities and possibilities. Rumors fly thick and fast and carry little or nothing that is correct. Innocent men only too frequently under ban of suspicion.

However, the matter is being probed under the direction of W. K. Bruner, special agent for the federal prohibition bureau, Washington, and from New Orleans it is reported may be made at any moment.

Agent surmised that the contraband was brought in from the Gulf of Mexico "mother ships" by small speedboats, hustled through the marshes and loaded on box cars at remote points.

As evidence of the big scale operations reputed to run up into hundreds of thousands of dollars, the agents roamed to the seizure three weeks ago of three freight cars of fine liquors in Mississippi and New Orleans and said they learned that at least seven other carloads had slipped through the net.

One of the reputed shipments, they said, was valued at around $250,000.

Hidden Radio Station Reported.

An Associated Press dispatch from New Orleans, from which point the authorities are working says that federal agents investigating alleged rum-running activities on the Mississippi Gulf Coast, suspected as the point of entry for large interior liquor shipments to the Detroit and Chicago areas today probe reports that a powerful hidden radio broadcasting station is operating without license in this section as an aid to the liquor movement.

The investigators revealed that they were centering attention in Hancock county, Miss., adjoining the Louisiana line.

It was indicated that arrests involving higher-ups in a recently gigantic liquor-smuggling ring were anticipated within the next few days.

TURNING BACK HISTORIC PAGES OF SAN ANTONIO TWO HUNDRED YEARS

An Epochal Celebration With Colorful and Impressive Ecclesiastical Pomp—San Fernando Cathedral Scene Of Two-Hundred-Year Celebration.

By JOHN T. MEYERS,

filled the air on Military Plaza bringing to a close one of the most impressive ceremonies ever witnessed in this city.

Attended by colorful and impressive ecclesiastical pomp, state, civic, and military notables, and representation of Spanish royalty, San Antonio's pages of history were turned back to the period of its founding by Canary Islanders 200 years ago during the bicentennial celebration which started here on March 4, and continued for six days.

This historic old city and its entire populace entered into the spirit of the celebration with whole-hearted sincerity. Each day was crowded with interesting programs of resplendent historic ceremonies, pilgrimages to missions, masses, and glamorous pageants depicting the life and activities of San Antonio de Bexar from the days of the early settlers up to the present time.

Among the first activities that marked the many events of the week, was the arrival in San Antonio of Cardinal Hayes, of New York, as representative of the Catholic church in the bicentennial celebration. Cardinal Hayes was greeted at the station by a delegation of San Antonio catholics and city officials. From here he was escorted by automobiles to San Fernando cathedral where formal greetings and ecclesiastical welcome from Archbishop Author J. Drossaerts and the clergy were extended.

As the procession approached within view of the venerable San Fernando cathedral the bells of this historic church pealed forth soulful chimes of welcome to the visiting Cardinal. Thousands of spectators stood about with heads bared and bowed down in reverence as Cardinal Hayes bestowed his blessings on the crowd. The scene presented a quaint and foreign-like setting as this beautiful and touching religious spectacle was being enacted.

Full honors due his high office were given Cardinal Hayes. According to Spanish customs, a Cardinal is ranked among princes, and the welcome given the distinguished church visitor was carried out in true princely fashion.

Archbishop Drossaerts, in ceremonial robes, met Cardinal Hayes at the entrance of the cathedral. Here, under an elaborate laced canopy, the Cardinal first kneeled and kissed a crucifix handed him by the Archbishop. He then followed Archbishop Drossaerts into the church where further ecclesiastical ceremonies were held. During his stay in the city, Cardinal Hayes made his place of residence at the Incarnate Word College.

From the time of his arrival in San Antonio, Cardinal Hayes was the center of almost continuous activity. At all times throughout his strenuous routine this benevolent, silver-haired man of God seemed ever to have a smile upon his lips, and keen interest in all that was going on about him.

On Wednesday evening the formal opening of the bicentennial celebration was officially started with the dedication of the magnificent Spanish Governor's Palace on Military Plaza, a short square's distance from San Fernando cathedral.

During this ceremony Cardinal Hayes blessed each room of this antiquated relic that has recently been restored to all its former early Spanish-type of beauty and splendor. Many of the original relics of the Palace have been restored, and the atmosphere about the Governor's Palace is rich in romantic history and legendary lore.

Giant flood lights were played upon the Governor's Palace as crowds filled the plaza to witness the enacting of a realistic pageant 200 years ago. These actors dressed in costumes of the period, resembling so many ghosts returned into the midst of modern civilization from the buried depths of the past.

Activities began bright and early on Thursday. Groups of devout Catholics gathered at Mission San Juan Capistrano, San Francisco de la Espada, and Nuestra Senora de la Purisima Concepcion de Acuna, just as the first faint rays of day was breaking in the east. Mass was conducted in the three historic missions by Franciscan fathers. It was members of this same Franciscan order, who more than two centuries ago, braved hardships and dangers to make possible this week's celebration.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE.

I, Leo W. Seal, Trustee, under the provisions of and by virtue of the authority conferred upon me in a deed of trust made by Jack and Crevey Melton, to Leo W. Seal as Trustee, on 9th day of July, 1929, to secure a certain indebtedness due the Hancock County Bank, and which deed of trust was then in default, on the plat form.

A typical warm Texas sunshine drenched its brilliant rays down upon the assembled throng. From their places on the raised platform the interior of the Catholic church presented a singular and awe-inspiring sight, their ceremonial robes of rich and beautiful colors, contrasting with the olive drab uniforms of the military attendance, glistened in the early morning sunshine.

While the confitid high mass was in progress a near tragedy was miraculously averted. A tall palm tree leaning its staff and broke and fell to the ground, impaling two women and an infant. More serious damage might have occurred but that the palm tree top struck a smaller tree, lessening the force of the fall to a great extent. This accident caused an interruption in the services, which continued at the time.

At the conclusion of the mass the hymn of San Fernando cathedral was concluded at the time.

Governor Huey Long of Louisiana has announced that he will not call an election until after January 1, 1932, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Congressman James B. Aswell. In view of the fact that there is a chance for the Democrats to organize the Lower House of Congress when it meets in December, the Louisiana executive gives a demonstration of his lack of party loyalty. It is to be hoped that he will right-about-face on the stand he has taken, and also that he will do the same thing about his announced intention to serve out his term as governor in order to keep Lieutenant-Governor Cyr getting into the State house at Baton Rouge.

LIGHT PUNISHMENT.

John Kowalski, a blacksmith, convicted of beating his sick wife, was given ten lashes with a cat-o'-nine tails whip by the sheriff in the county jail at Baltimore Monday. By order of the judge of the criminal court the blows were light and Kowalski took his punishment with a half grin. While use of the lash is a relic of ancient days, it is a far too humane punishment for a brute guilty of beating his wife.

LET US PRAY.

Before the end of the year Mississippi's new insane hospital will have been completed and the more than 2000 patients confined in the old fire-trap at Jackson will be removed to their new quarters. Let us all hope and pray that no more blazes occur before they are safely transferred to the Rankin county institution which will be among the most complete and up-to-date in the whole country.

TIME TO CLEAN-UP.

Isn't it about time for our city commissioners to issue their annual clean-up order to property owners? There are a number of places sadly in need of attention and which are eye sores. All such should be cleaned up at once. Their presence do not create a favorable impression on either home folks or visitors.

NOT A GOOD POLICY.

Six men are under arrest in Mobile charged with conspiracy to defraud the United States government by an alleged scheme to pad the payrolls of the Mississippi-Warrior barge line. Proof of their guilt is conclusive and they will find it a costly thing to try to beat Uncle Sam out of any of his cash.

CURIOSITY GOT BEST OF HER.

Mrs. Dona Hodges, assistant postmaster at Wesson, was indicted in the federal court on a charge of violating the postal laws and regulations. Her offense was that she let her curiosity get the better of her judgment when she opened a quantity of first class mail.

BAD CONDITIONS.

Conditions in New York City are evidently in a bad way when they are said to be worse than in the days of Boss Tweed. The removal of Mayor Walker and District Attorney Crain has been demanded by civic leaders and churchmen in order to stem the tide of municipal corruption.

Membership in the American Legion continues to grow in Mississippi, and has now reached the peak of 6,200.

Wheat was selling in the Chicago market last Monday at less than 60 cents a bushel, the lowest price in 36 years.

One of the largest oil companies in the country has leases on more than 100,000 acres of land in Greene county and active work is now in progress to discover oil or gas in that section of Mississippi.

A man found a spider in Mark Twain's newspaper and wrote him to know if the omen was good or bad. Twain answered: "The spider is looking over the pages to see who is advertising. He's planning to weave his web over the doors of those who do not."

The automobile factories in Detroit are turning out cars at the rate of four hundred thousand a month and their payrolls amount to two million dollars a week. The Michigan city is enjoying wonderful prosperity, but how about the balance of the country that is paying for all those gas-wagons?

NEW LAMPS.

A new lamp has been invented which is bright enough so that a person five miles away can read newspaper print. Used at arms' length in conjunction with a strong magnifying glass, it may enable searchers to ascertain what the Republican administration has accomplished to the credit of the party.

TREADING ON DANGEROUS GROUND

One DePriest, a negro Republican elected to Congress from Chicago, was in New Orleans last week and made a speech in which he advocated intermarriage of negroes and whites and social equality.

It is such negro spokesmen who are enemies to their race, and their attempt to destroy the barriers separating the two races can and will only result in trouble and lasting harm to negroes who may foolishly believe that the time will ever come when those barriers will be broken down.

The two races are living in peace and harmony at the present time and DePriest is treading on dangerous ground when he comes to a Southern community to preach social equality and intermarriage to his race.

The Southerners people are the best friends the negroes have, and any effort to destroy existing relations is indeed unwise and likely to result in bringing about serious race trouble, in which the negroes would be the sufferers. If some other sections are satisfied to accept the members of an inferior race as social equals the white people of the South have naught to say, but such a condition can never come about down here, and the sooner DePriest and all others who may think to the contrary the better it will be for the negro race.

In conclusion The Echo would add that it would be well for DePriest and other negro advocates of social equality and intermarriage between whites and blacks to confine their activities to communities north of the Mason and Dixon line in order to avoid the violence and bloodshed which would inevitably follow the preaching of such doctrine in our Southern territory.

ANENT BIRTH CONTROL.

The subject of birth control is one that is attracting more or less attention these days, but we doubt if its discussion is productive of gaining converts to the practice.

Arthur Brisbane in one of his recent contributions to the press on the subject comments thusly:

The Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America accepts birth control as a "common-sense policy." One bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church is said to fear that the stigma of birth-control will postpone indefinitely a union of all the Christian churches, the Catholic church being inexorably opposed to birth-control.

However, that is theoretical, not a practical difficulty. Any possible union of Catholic and Protestant churches would be like the union of a cat and canary, the Protestant churches representing the canary. Catholics will not change, modify or hedge.

TENNESSEE GOING ONE BETTER.

And now Tennessee will go other states one better in the manner and ease of securing divorces, provided a bill introduced in its legislature the other day secures approval. It provides that non-residents shall be granted divorce decrees after a residence of only 30 days in the state. The divorce industry is evidently a paying business and Tennessee aims to be a strong competitor for its share of it. It is indeed a sad and deplorable state of affairs when the sanctity of marriage is so lightly regarded that inducement is offered by great commonwealths to destroy the home circle. Instead of making divorce easier, it should be the desire of law-making bodies to pass restrictive measures and curb the increasing number of divorces. In fact we are of the opinion that it is a question to which the national government should give attention and a law passed restricting the issuance of divorce decrees only on certain grounds.

GOING PRETTY FAR.

Dr. Francis Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of America, was in New Orleans last week, and at a luncheon given in his honor prayers for the death of ex-brewers were offered. Among others present was the Rev. E. O. Ware, who, we take it, is a bell-wether in the dry camp. He said he did not think "it would be sinful to pray for the death of all the ex-brewers in the United States."

"What we need," he added, "is more first class funerals among these enemies of prohibition." Strikes us that is going pretty far for a man of God, as somewhere in the Good Book we are not to pray for the death of even our worst enemy.

TIME NOT RIPE FOR THIRD PARTY.

Senator Robert M. LaFollette of Wisconsin says the time has not arrived for the formation of a third party. He was a prime factor in the recent meeting of independent Republican and Democratic senators in Washington and asserts that it was not a move to establish a new party but merely to bring together experts and representatives for the formation of a tangible basis on which to work for legislation at the next session of congress. "The country needs definite, well-informed lawmaking bodies," he said, "and we were laying the foundation to obtain the advice and experience of men who ought to know."

A GOOD SELECTION.

The selection of Edgar S. Wilson as Mississippi's mouthpiece to present the statue of Jefferson Davis to the nation when it is unveiled in the Hall of Fame in the capitol at Washington on June 2, is fitting recognition of the one man above all others who will reflect greatest credit upon our State. His address on that occasion is sure to be one which will do justice to the dead chieftain of the Lost Cause.

PENITENTIARY RIOTS.

It is getting very common for penitentiary convicts to stage riots, the latest outbreak occurring last week in the State prison at Joliet, Illinois. Several convicts were killed by guards and many thousands of dollars worth of damage resulted from fires started by the rioters.

VIEWS OF OUR NEWS

By Chicagoan

Chicago, Ill., March 24.—Before I read the account of George E. Schilling's speech before the Rotary in which he described a city and a land where Spring reigns supreme while Winter holds the northern hemisphere in its grip—Before I had even read Mrs. A. F. Fournier's address of welcome to the Hancock Parent-Teachers Association when it was entertained by the Waveland Club, before any of that verses of poetry coursed through my mind in unending procession. What caused that I wondered. Then a glance at the calendar gave me my answer. While the Echo was on its way from Bay St. Louis to Chicago, the earth, on its jaunt around the sun, had reached the place that marks the beginning of Spring. March 1 has come and gone. Spring is officially here. And poets sing in the Springtime.

That their songs have also been of Bay St. Louis and its people was easily discerned when the paper was read. For here we were told that into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Kergosien there has come another life. Let the poet complete my welcome to the little newcomer. "About you the world's dispair will surge, Into defeat you must plunge and grope, Be to the faltering an urge, Bring to the hopeless years a hope."

Have you watched the surprise of calves, colts and lambs when they are turned from a dark stable into the brilliance of the great out-doors? Have you seen the first flower of the season open its eyes to the glory of the Spring sun? It looks for all the world like a startled child. Spring brings its surprises to all things, animate and inanimate. But the seasons can bring no surprises to men and women than those which loving friends can spring. After reading the account of the party tendered them, I know that Mr. and Mrs. Ruhr of Waveland will agree with me in that last statement at least.

Of old, Spring called the warrior to battle; the huntsman to the chase. And to this day, it inspires man to greater activities in his chosen work. Sometimes, indeed, it calls him to far off places as it did George E. Pitcher who, according to last week's paper recently left for Atlanta looking after business affairs. One feels so much like travelling and doing things in the Spring. "Afoot and lighthearted I take to the open road. Healthy and free, the world before me. The long brown path before me leading wherever I choose."

And with the changing of the season, the speed laws of Bay St. Louis were revised. At the time Ordinance No. 10 was passed, fifteen miles per hour was considered an unsafe speed with which to travel in a city. Braking devices have been improved since then, and now a car traveling at a much higher rate of speed can be brought to a quick stop, thus averting danger to such as might cross its path. Twenty-five miles does not seem like much speed now when automobiles make two-hundred and more miles in an hour—while airplanes double that. I wonder what laws will be required for regulation of travel in the air. Well, in the meantime, it is best for motorists to heed the admonition of The Echo, and not exceed the new speed limit.

And says last week's paper, it is not only Spring in all of the northern hemisphere, but also in the life of E. V. Bourgeois, who last week entered upon his eightieth year. Those years have brought sweet philosophy of life to Mr. Bourgeois. A poet who knew him not at all, but loved him nevertheless, sang this song—for him: "A little work, a little play, To keep us going—and so good-day!"

A little warmth, a little light Of love's bestowing—and so good-night!

A little fun to match the sorrow Of each day's growing—and so good-morrow!

A little trust that when we die, We reap our sowing—and so good-bye!

As I repeat poetry, so history repeats itself. In the March of 1513, Ponce De Leon, intrepid Spaniard, was engaged in his search for the fountain of perpetual youth. Just 418 years later, in the March of 1931, the Atlas Drug Store sought boys and girls during Whip-It Toss. Mr. De Leon failed to find his fountain. The Atlas Drug Store will sell its tops, for it advertised in The Echo. Old Ponce couldn't do that.

Most likely everyone can name the poets whom I've quoted, but if there are lines familiar to any of you, I'll gladly send the names of the authors to those making the request. In the meantime . . .

The lubricating value of a motor oil depends upon the method of refining and the care used in the refining process, rather than the source from which the crude is secured.

The best quality crude oil, regardless of its source, is selected for the refining of "STANDARD" Motor Oil. YOUR FRIEND, THE CHURCH.

The word has come from some "wise" men that the church is losing its influence, that it is not what it used to be and that the people of the nation are less religious.

Pardon us, if we don't believe a word of it! Pardon us, again, if we say that whenever the people of this nation lose interest in religion and forget the church, that their attitude spells less disaster for the church than for the people.

Sensible men and women know that most of the progress of mankind has been due to the influence of religion. They know furthermore that the church is the instrumentality that affords people an opportunity to express their religion in a practical way, and what is more to the point, if they are educated, they know that much of their so-called liberty and civilization is due to the activities of the organized church, as a whole, in the thousands of years that have elapsed since man began to dominate the world.

As I repeat poetry, so history repeats itself. In the March of 1513, Ponce De Leon, intrepid Spaniard, was engaged in his search for the fountain of perpetual youth. Just 418 years later, in the March of 1931, the Atlas Drug Store sought boys and girls during Whip-It Toss. Mr. De Leon failed to find his fountain. A Courageous Bishop.

The Right Rev. Theodore D. Bratton, Episcopal Bishop of Mississippi, was reported last week in the press to have stated, in a noonday Lenten service at the Memphis Calvary Church in Memphis, that the enforcement of prohibition was a disgrace and almost everybody admits it.

"No one," he stated, "is satisfied with present conditions—in fact, no one is getting any satisfaction out of the muddle."

Bishop Bratton believes that the sale of liquor should be controlled by law and that when it was so controlled, there were no liquor lords drawing from the cities their heavy tribute in crime and corruption.

According to the newspaper report, Bishop Bratton expressed himself as believing that 4 per cent beer is good beer and that it would remedy present conditions if it were placed under state rather than national control. Gulfport Guide.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL NOTES OF WEEK FROM WAVELAND AND VICINITY

V. E. WEBER Box 134
Waveland, Miss.

Mr. Hy Jareau of New Orleans has awarded contract for modern bungalow to Garcia and Carr. All material to be furnished by Norton Haas Lumber Company.

Millers filling station, Waveland avenue has been repaired and is very white and black.

A deal is now on for two lots on Coleman avenue opposite the house, name of purchaser will be announced in next issue of The Echo.

The letter of Mr. S. Levy in last week's issue of The Echo, relative to drainage between Beach road and the property line was well taken. By all means drainage should be improved; all leaking water pipes repaired and low places filled in.

Some places are sadly in need of filling, for after every rain, water remains in these spots, until it either seeps through sub-grade of road or evaporates. If these conditions are allowed to exist it is only a question of time when the road will be seriously damaged. If the property owners will co-operate with the town officials we are sure drainage would be improved.

Mrs. J. B. Levy of New Orleans is visiting her sister Mrs. (Mayor) E. G. Schwartz.

Sister Mary Alice of St. Joseph Academy, Baton Rouge, visited her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Biguonet for the christening of their baby, Patricia Ann. Sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Phil Kammer.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Ladner christened their baby, Christian Levy, Jr., sponsors being Mr. P. G. Fayard, and Mrs. Paul Fayard.

Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Hellbach will remain over for two weeks, in their summer home in Terrace.

Mr. W. J. Montgomery and Enrique Reid were over for the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Hannemann and family Miss Hilda Lester of New Orleans were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Wilcox.

Mrs. W. A. Mapp and daughter, Adelaide are spending a few days in New Orleans.

Mrs. Dan Chadwick came over from New Orleans for the day, and reports her husband, Dan, is doing nicely, she returned on the Mary Jane.

Mrs. Dan Fayard, Sr., has returned after spending several weeks at the bedside of her mother.

Dr. and Mrs. Geo. Herrmann and daughters Georgia and Gretchen motored to Mobile, Ala., to view the Azalea, they say blooms are lovely and are elated over their trip.

Mr. Irwin Fayard returned to college after spending the week end with his parents.

Mr. Dan Fayard, Sr., motored to New Orleans on a business trip.

Mrs. J. Landry and son, have returned to Baton Rouge, La., after spending several weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Zimmerman.

Mrs. John Saldino and charming baby are spending some time with her parents, Mr. and John Fricker.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Reidlinger of Waveland avenue, entertained quite a number of friends during the week.

The pupils of Mrs. V. E. Weber and Miss Louise Armstrong are now rehearsing for a recital to be given shortly after Easter.

From all indications a large crowd will be over for Easter holidays.

PAPER SHELL PECAN HISTORY IS TRACED

Most of the Finer Varieties Of the Delmas Nut Originated in Jackson County.

(By R. E. Smith in Jackson Daily News)

Natchez, Miss., March 7.—While the pecan in its wild state is found from the Pacific to the Atlantic oceans, its culture originated on the Gulf Coast and with one exception, the Natchez, all of the improved varieties of the paper shell nut—the Schley, the Lewis, Stuart, Success, Van Deman, Alley, Big Z, Pabst and Russell were first propagated in Gulf Coast area.

Although the Natchez is the newest of the improved varieties, it is becoming very popular and has done much to establish the claim of this section to being the home of the pecan industry. In type the Natchez resembles the Moneymaker, but according to local growers it has many added advantages.

At present there are only eight southern states where pecans are grown commercially to any great extent. These are Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma, Alabama, Georgia and Florida. It is generally conceded that pecans will do best on deep alluvial or bottom land. Trees from this type of land are larger and heavier fruiters than trees of the same age on the higher rolling lands. Trees on clay or sandy loam soils grow much slower than they do on brown loam soils. Cultivation and fertilizers are doing much, however, in developing profitable orchards on the poorer and dryer lands.

The culture of the pecan started in 1846 when a slave named Antonio, a gardener for Telephore J. Roman, in St. James parish, Louisiana, grafted 16 trees of the variety known as the Centennial, and up to the Civil War 126 trees had been grafted.

In 1877 Emile Bourgeois, of Union, La., grafted 11 scions of the Van Den, then called the Dumine, or Mummie Mire, after its owner. The Frottscher and Rome were propagated by Richard Frottscher in 1852, but in the same year W. R. Stuart at Ocean Springs, and A. G. Delmas of Pascagoula, began the work of propagating pecans.

W. R. Stuart became associated with H. L. Stuart, of Michigan, and together they made a visit to Pascagoula and on the old Hall place on the shores of the Mississippi Sound found growing a pecan tree from which they took scions.

Stuarts Have Origin.

This tree was the original Stuart pecan. The tree blew down in 1893 but the stump may still be seen and is annually visited by many who are attracted to the spot by the fame of this great pecan. From this tree the Stuart Pecan Company propagated the first Stuart pecan which is now recognized as one of the foremost of edibles.

About the time the Stuarts of Ocean Springs began to propagate the nut that bears their name, A. G. Delmas, of Pascagoula, brought from the place where the Stuart pecan was first found the Schley, named after Admiral Schley, just after the battle of Santiago, and the other named after himself, the Delmas, whose name has now become world wide.

Shortly after A. G. Delmas began the cultivation of the pecan by propagating the seedling, Charles E. Pabst entered upon the cultivation in a scientific manner and began the propagation from buds and grafts, establishing the first pecan nursery with his famous Pabst pecan, which is a favorite with nut growers.

Mr. Pabst was followed in his work by Frank H. Lewis and Irving P. Delmas. These five men in the order named are pioneers of the great industry which has been built up in the past 30 years.

Marketing Improved.

While carload shipments of pecans have been made from Natchez through independent buyers for a number of years past, it was not until the past year when the National Pecan Marketing Association became affiliated with the Federal Farm Board that any effort to form a local co-operative shipping association was made. Results obtained through the Natchez Co-operative Pecan Marketing Association were so satisfactory that during the present month the national association is conducting a campaign looking to the organization of new associations in the Southwest Mississippi pecan belt and it is indicated that within a short time the commercial nut growers of this section will have developed marketing machinery on as extensive a scale as the fruit growers of California and Florida.

During the past season Natchez marketed more than a million dollars worth of nuts and led the entire state in shipments, both of paper and wild nuts. Almost half of the shipments were made through the local co-operative association.

ADVERTISING PAYS.

When Roger Babson, noted statistician, says that he knows of nothing better than well directed advertising to speed up the movement of business, you may take it for granted that this economic expert is basing his observation upon his study of business in the United States.

Mr. Babson declares "is a penny-wise and pound foolish policy to cut down advertising because business is full," pointing out that advertising is a valuable tool which cuts its way through resistance and competition to progress and profit.

WORK AND PLAY AT S. J. A.

S. J. A. ENJOYS HOLIDAY ON FEAST OF ST. JOSEPH.

Special solemnities signalized the celebration of the Feast of St. Joseph which the most dear to all pupils of S. J. A.

Mass was sung by the pupils all of whom, with only a few exceptions, went to Holy Communion in a body in honor of their Patron Saint.

After the Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament which immediately followed the Mass the pupils were dismissed for the day each to enjoy the holiday as she saw fit. All have since reported a most enjoyable time.

THANKS TO PUPILS AND FRIENDS.

Hearty thanks are hereby expressed by Mother Claire and the Sisters to the various classes of S. J. A. and to the many friends who so thoughtfully remembered the Sisters on their feast day. The generous gifts whether of fruit, candy, cake, or money were much appreciated by every member of the faculty at S. J. A.

Mr. St. Joseph, who never lets himself be surpassed in generosity, rewarded these pupils and friends of S. J. A. as he alone can.

RECEPTION OF CHILDREN OF MARY.

Wednesday was the Feast of the Annunciation, a feast dear to the hearts of all Children of Mary. This year the Sodality of S. J. A. wished to solemnize the feast specially and attempted the Missa Recitata, the Children of Mary answering the Celebrant in Latin and reading the proper of the Mass out loud. This was the first of the Children of Mary at the Missa Recitata was attended with gratifying success.

The Reception immediately followed the Mass. Our pastor, the Very Rev. Father Cmelch addressed the girls before admitting them into the Sodality and urged them to become active members of this organization which has grown so much of late. Eleven of the High School girls of S. J. A. were enrolled as members and received the blue ribbon and medal of the Sodality. Those who were received are as follows: Celie Toledo, Eran Le Blanc, Delta Lizzana, Alice Camors, Lois Wolfe, Bernice Johnson, Edith Spotorino, Carrie Koenen, Gertie Mitchell, Catherine Burg, and Louise Carrera. The Act of Consecration was read by Delta Lizzana. The girls presented their candles to our Blessed Mother after the reception.

NOW THEY ARE TAKING TO POETRY.

We don't know whether it is a result of the special study which we have made of poetry during this past month, or whether Spring is to blame, but at any rate we have discovered a few budding "poets" in our midst. The following are specimens from two of our juniors.

LAUGHS.

Laugh though your heart is breaking, Laugh though the skies seem gray, Laugh when the world turns against you.

Things will come right some day.

Laugh when life looks the bleakest, When hope seems turned to despair, Don't always seek out the easiest, Each has his burden to bear.

Come, laugh and try to be merry, Don't turn your face to the wall, Show the world that your smile is cheery;

For sorrow must come to all.

MY HOBBY.

I would like to be a hermit, And dwell within a cave, Away from all the luxuries that man and woman crave.

I'd put away all worldly things, The world and its temptations, And take with me my savings books And a year's supply of rations.

I'd bid farewell to every friend, I'd break every bond and chain, But I'd wait before twelve months, I would hurry home again.

MY DEAR DIARY.

Guess you must think I have deserted you, but really nothing exciting has happened. However, there are several questions which are troubling me and I would like to answer them for you.

For instance, I have a question about the "Devil

SCENES ENACTED BY THE GREAT LEGION OF NOCTURNAL WORKERS

(For The Sea Coast Echo)

During the long drawn hours night by night from midnight until dawn, the vast army of workers, who in various professions and callings comprise the "night shift," are gamely carrying on the routine of the nation's business while the day workers are deep in the land of slumber.

The scenes are experiences enacted by this great nocturnal legion are varied, interesting and intriguing.

On big city newspapers telegraph operators bend over instruments flashing news over their wires through the stillness of the night. Somewhere, at distant points, operators interpret the clattering sputters of the Morse code, and grind away at page after page of copy that will be printed in tomorrow's editions. When news sending slackens for a spell, the operator may get in a brief word to his unseen partners. Usually, these "wire talks" are wittily spiced with a fatalistic philosophy that gradually becomes part of the personality of most night workers after a time.

Somewhere in the night's activities serious-faced doctors and nurses are nobly carrying on in wards and operating rooms of hospitals where their skill and courage are needed to save human lives.

At police headquarters the boys have made themselves as comfortable as possible. After the latest tricks jokes and wise cracks have been brought into play, and the night's police routine has slackened with the approach of the wee hours, the night force settle down to reading detective and wild west yarns while cities slumber. Occasionally the men pair off for rounds of coffee at an all-night restaurant to help ward off the lethargic feeling that is usually more pronounced between 2:30 and 4 A.M., it is said.

There seems to be a true spirit of democracy associated with the coffee drinking of night workers. Among the groups who sit at the counter enjoying the cup that helps ward off the hypnotic lure of sleep while the clock ticks away another night's vigil, milk and bread route drivers, policemen, messenger boys, telephone employees, reporters, taxi drivers, and even gentlemen of questionable character are included.

Class and distinction are of little importance as this night group gathers for a brief respite against the clutch of sleep. The weather and current topic of late news are discussed with anyone who will listen, for companionship and human contact means more to the night worker than the day worker can realize. After sipping their "java" they fade away into the darkness, and back to the task at which they work.

And when the many whistles over the country will be starting the day workers on their tasks, the "Night shift" will have chalked up another night on the payroll, and be trudging homeward to rest weary minds and bodies . . . until tonight.

WOMAN WINS $12,000 JUDGMENT FROM BUS CO. FOR INJURY TO EYE

Here and There Items of Interest From Spring Term Hancock County Circuit Court

Hancock Circuit Court, with Judge White on the bench and District Attorney Wm. M. Colmer representing the State and Attorney E. J. Gex representing the county, Hancock county circuit court for the spring term has been active the past two weeks. Report of the grand jury will be found elsewhere in this issue of the Sea Coast Echo.

George Washcock was given 5 months on the county road in case of auto theft, having been convicted on a charge of having stolen a car which belonged to Mr. Russell, a teacher at St. Augustine's seminary here, and driving the car to Jacksonville, where he was arrested and Sheriff J. The occurrence at the time was fully detailed in these columns. It was alleged that Washcock had gone into Russell's residence at night and took the car out of a garage and made away with it.

Gets $12,000 Damages.

Friday evening brought to a close the $25,000 personal damage suit, wherein Gex &amp; Gex, of Bay St. Louis, represented the plaintiff and won a judgment for their client.

This suit, brought by Mrs. Velma Bateman of Boudin's against the Tech Transfer Company was based upon an injury to her eye alleged to have been sustained by the plaintiff when a pebble from a gravel roadway struck her.

The injury, she claimed, occurred as she was driving her automobile along the highway and met one of the Tech Transfer Company passenger busses which flung a loose pebble from the roadway against the windshield of her car which penetrated the glass and struck her in the eye, inflicting a serious permanent injury.
